

Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich Dancers to Be Featured Performers at Great Chefs

GreenwichPatch

February 19, 2013

Posted by Frank Tortorici

Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich Dancers to be Featured Performers at Great Chefs 2013 Fundraiser for Greenwich Hospital and Community.

GREENWICH, CT, The Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich, CT announced today that it will provide the featured dancing to Great Chefs 2013, the 28th-Annual evening of spectacular dining provided by top area chefs with all proceeds going to Greenwich Hospital.

The Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich, known for promoting movement and dance across Fairfield County and Upper Westchester as a fun and exciting way to stay vibrant and healthy, will feature a center stage performance, roaming dances, salsa-in-seconds demonstrations and will be on hand to dance with the anticipated 800 attendees.

“We want to add an element of exotic fun to the mix,” said Christine Georgopulo, president and owner of the Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich. The Friday, March 1 event will be an evening of Epicurean delights to benefit community health in Westchester and Fairfield counties and Greenwich Hospital, which provides educational programs, healthcare screenings and support groups to Connecticut and New York residents.

The chefs will present a feast of signature dishes, and beverages from many of the finest restaurants, catering companies and beverage distributors in Connecticut and New York will be featured.

In addition, the Grande Ballroom will donate a dance program to the winner of the fundraiser’s raffle and will offer special, preferred rates for its dance classes to the attendees. The event will also include silent, live, and wine auctions, with proceeds going to the Hospital.

The culinary extravaganza will honor the legendary Chef Angelo Vivolo, owner of Vivolo Restaurant, Bar Vetro, Cucina Vivolo and Bruschetteria in New York City and will feature Pastry Chef Lisa Maronian, owner of Sweet Lisa’s Exquisite Cakes in Greenwich. Co-chairs this year are Greenwich residents Carolyn Crabtree and Shelly Tretter Lynch.

Top chefs participating include Jonathan Mathias of A Dash of Salt and Sam Epps, chef de cuisine at Tarry Lodge in Port Chester. They will provide tastings designed to promote healthy eating and a healthy lifestyle.

“Our exciting performances will enhance the excellence of the culinary talent that the event showcases,” Georgopulo said. “This combination of talent has ensured that the Greenwich Hospital fundraiser has always been a sell-out and has become one of the premier social events of the season.”

Great Chefs 2013, beginning at 7 pm, will be held at the Westchester Country Club, 99 Biltmore Ave., Rye, NY. For ticket details, please visit: <http://www.greenhosp.org/benefit-events> .

The Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich CT is located at 6 Lewis Street, in downtown Greenwich. The studio, which hosts talented and aspiring students from around Fairfield County and Upper Westchester, has been completely restored and redecorated in the Regency period style and is truly a grand ballroom.

Follow Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich on Twitter @GrandeBallroom and on Facebook at Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich.

<https://www.facebook.com/home.php#!/ArthurMurrayBallroom?fref=ts>

GRANDE BALLROOM OF GREENWICH

Fundraising & Charity

Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich Performance at Great Chefs for Greenwich Hospital

Friday, Mar 1, 2013, 7:00pm

Westchester Country Club
99 Biltmore Ave, Rye, NY 10580

arthurmurraygreenwich.com

Tickets range from $250 to $1,000

Enjoy a full show by the professional dancers of the Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich dance studio.

All proceed go to Community Health at Greenwich Hospital.

Ballroom Dancers To Get Hospital Benefit Moving

March 1, 2013

By Greenwich Post Staff

Twirl yourself over to the 28th annual Great Chefs fund-raiser for the Greenwich Hospital and community, and you'll be entertained by students of the Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich, who will dance their way through the event.

The Grande Ballroom, known for promoting movement and dance across Fairfield County and upper Westchester County as a fun and exciting way to stay vibrant and healthy, will feature a center stage performance, roaming dances, salsa-in-seconds demonstrations and will be on hand to dance with the anticipated 800 attendees.

"We want to add an element of exotic fun to the mix," said Christine Georgopulo, president and owner of the Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich.

The event takes place Friday, March 1 and will feature an evening of Epicurean delights to benefit community health in Westchester and Fairfield counties and Greenwich Hospital, which provides educational programs, healthcare screenings and support groups to Connecticut and New York residents.

The 'Great Chefs' will present a feast of signature dishes, and beverages from many of the finest restaurants, catering companies and beverage distributors in Connecticut and New York will be featured.

In addition, the Grande Ballroom will donate a dance program to the winner of the fund-raiser's raffle and will offer special, preferred rates for its dance classes to the attendees.

The event will also include silent, live and wine auctions, with proceeds donated to the hospital.

"Our exciting performances will enhance the excellence of the culinary talent that the event showcases," Ms. Georgopulo said. "This combination of talent has ensured that the Greenwich Hospital fund-raiser has always been a sell-out and has become one of the premier social events of the season."

Great Chefs 2013, beginning at 7 p.m., will be held at the Westchester Country Club, 99 Biltmore Avenue, Rye, N.Y.

For ticket details, visit greenhosp.org/benefit-events. Tretter Lynch.

GRANDE BALLROOM OF GREENWICH

Great Food Meets Great Dance

February 21, 2013

By It's Relevant Staff

The Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich will provide the featured dancing at the 28th Annual Great Chefs 2013, an evening of spectacular dining provided by top area chefs with all proceeds going to Greenwich Hospital.

The Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich, will feature a center stage performance, roaming dances, salsa-in-seconds demonstrations and will be on hand to dance with the anticipated 800 attendees.

“We want to add an element of exotic fun to the mix,” said Christine Georgopulo, president and owner of the Arthur Murray Grande Ballroom of Greenwich.

The event will benefit community health in Westchester and Fairfield counties and Greenwich Hospital, which provides educational programs, healthcare screenings and support groups to Connecticut and New York residents.

The chefs will present signature dishes, and beverages from many of the finest restaurants, catering companies and beverage distributors in Connecticut and New York.

In addition, the Grande Ballroom will donate a dance program to the winner of the fundraiser's raffle and will offer special, preferred rates for its dance classes to the attendees. The event will also include silent, live, and wine auctions, with proceeds going to the Hospital.

Great Chefs will honor the legendary Chef Angelo Vivolo, owner of Vivolo Restaurant, Bar Vetro, Cucina Vivolo and Bruschetta in New York City and will also feature Pastry Chef Lisa Maronian, owner of Sweet Lisa's Exquisite Cakes in Greenwich. Co-chairs this year's event are Greenwich residents Carolyn Crabtree and Shelly Tretter Lynch.

Chefs participating include Jonathan Mathias of A Dash of Salt and Sam Epps, Chef de Cuisine at Tarry Lodge in Port Chester, NY. They will provide tastings designed to promote healthy eating and a healthy lifestyle.

“Our exciting performances will enhance the excellence of the culinary talent that the event showcases,” Georgopulo said. “This combination of talent has ensured that the Greenwich Hospital fundraiser has always been a sell-out and has become one of the premier social events of the season.”

Great Chefs 2013, will take place Friday, March 1 at 7 pm. The event will be held at the Westchester Country Club, 99 Biltmore Ave., Rye, NY. For ticket details, visit: <http://www.greenhosp.org/benefit-events>

GRANDE BALLROOM OF GREENWICH